

CREATIVE CHINA:

Visual Culture,
Architecture and Design
International Conference

创意中国

CHINA DESIGN NOW

Sponsored by

The world's local bank

CREATIVE CHINA:

Visual Culture,
Architecture and Design
International Conference

6–7 June 2008
10.00–17.00

A two-day international conference, organised in association with King's College London, exploring current developments in Chinese visual culture, design and urbanism in relation to rapid economic development and social change.

The conference will feature a range of presentations by leading academics and professional experts from China, Europe and the UK. Looking at fine art, photography and film as well as graphic design, fashion, product design, architecture and urban planning, a series of panel discussions will further explore themes highlighted in the China Design Now exhibition, including changing cultural identities and emerging new practices in art and design.

Supported by Creative Connexions, with additional support from the British Academy
Programme subject to change

Speakers

Bao Mingxin, Fashion, Art & Design Department, Donghua University, Shanghai

Stefan Landsberger, Sinological Institute, University of Leiden

Ou Ning, Designer, Filmmaker and Curator

Hans Ulrich Obrist, Director of International Projects, Serpentine Gallery

Zhang Hongxing, Co-Curator, China Design Now

Neville Mars, Dynamic City Foundation, Beijing

Xiaolu Guo, Writer and Filmmaker

Sir Michael Bichard, Chairman, Design Council

Freeman Lau, President, Hong Kong Design Centre

Gao Shiming, Director, Centre of Visual Culture Research, China Academy of Art

Charles Knevt, Director, RIBA Trust

Jiang Jun, Editor-in-Chief, Urban China Magazine, Shanghai

£110 for 2 days, £55 for 1 day, Concessions available

Further information and booking available online at www.vam.ac.uk/conferences or call 020 7942 2211

Victoria and Albert Museum
📍 South Kensington
Buses C1, 14, 414 and 74
www.vam.ac.uk

Image: Preference, front cover artwork for Vision Magazine, February 2004 © Chen Man

KING'S College
LONDON

creative connexions
创意连接