

King's College Risk Research Symposium
VARIETIES OF RISK RESEARCH:
EXPLORING AND EXPANDING BOUNDARIES WITHIN ACADEMIA AND BEYOND

 5th June 2009  King's College London, Strand, London WC2R 2LS ***

King's College London, Strand Campus: The Symposium takes place in the Strand Campus of King's College. The Campus is near the tube stations Embankment, Temple, and Holborn. Nearby railway stations are Waterloo, Waterloo East, and Charing Cross. For further public transport information, including a journey planner, please visit <http://www.tfl.gov.uk/>.

Registration at the Geography Department: The Geography Department is located mainly on Level 4 of the King's Building (coloured green on the above map) on King's Strand Campus. Use the main entrance (through the building coloured red and labelled A) on the Strand.

The Social Space where you can register, pick up conference packs and name badge is on the 4th Floor next to the Departmental Office.

Conference Rooms Pyramid Room, K2.31 & K3.11: The conference rooms on the second, third and fourth floor of the Strand's King's Building are easy to find from the Social Space/Departmental Office. There will be signs and always someone to show you the way.

Contact numbers: If you get lost, please call +44 798 520 8884 or +44 779 217 5092.