Mediating Thought: A Conference in Honour of Christopher Johnson

Saturday 26 January 2019, Council Room, King’s College London

supported by
King’s College London
Society for French Studies
Edinburgh University Press
&
Paragraph: A Journal of Modern Critical Theory

10.15–11
Introduction (Nicholas Harrison)
Judith Still, ‘Leroi-Gourhan and the Field of Ethnology’ (drawn from Chris Johnson’s unfinished monograph on Leroi-Gourhan)

11–11.30 coffee

11.30–12.45
Boris Wiseman, ‘Embodied Viewing and Degas’s Little Dancer Aged Fourteen: An Experiment in Eye-tracking and Motion Capture’
Marian Hobson, “Give us back our 11 days”: Brexit or Breaksit

12.45–2 lunch

2–3.15
Terence Cave, ‘Iser’s Literary Anthropology Revisited’
Leslie Hill, “The Prey or the Shadow”: Klossowski and Indirection

3.15–3.45 tea

3.45–5
Mike Holland, ‘Movement in Translation’

5.15–6
Peggy Kamuf, ‘Chris Johnson’s Writing Lesson’

6–7 Drinks reception