Dear [REDACTED]

Request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (“the Act”)

Further to your recent request for information held by King’s College London, I am writing to confirm that the requested information is not held by the university.

Your request

We received your information request on 3 August 2022 and have treated it as a request for information made under section 1(1) of the Act.

You requested the following information:

I am writing to you under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to request some information.

A) Please tell me how many hits the following websites gained in total between January 2021 and the date of this email on your university intranet system.

NOTE: To be clear, I’m interested to know how many times the below sites have been accessed through university computers, and I’d be happy with receiving the data in whatever form you hold it.

B) Please provide me with a month-by-month breakdown of the hits aggregated across all five sites if possible. That is, I’d like to know how many hits all of these sites taken together received each month over the requested time period.

Our response

The college does not monitor personal/individual website usage of staff/students or retain any relevant background records. Therefore, no information relevant to your request is held.

This completes the university's response to your information request.

Your right to complain

If you are unhappy with the service you have received in relation to your information request or feel that it has not been properly handled you have the right to complain or request a review of our decision by contacting the Assistant Director of Business Assurance (Information Compliance) within 60 days of the date of this letter.

Further information about our internal complaints procedure is available at the link below:

http://www.kcl.ac.uk/college/policyzone/assets/files/governance_and_legal/Freedom_of_Information_Policy_updated_Oct_%202011.pdf

In the event that you are not content with the outcome of your complaint you may apply to the Information Commissioner for a decision. Generally, the Information Commissioner cannot make a decision unless you have exhausted the internal complaints procedure provided by King's College London.

The Information Commissioner can be contacted at the following address:

The Information Commissioner's Office
Wycliffe House
Water Lane
