Dear [REDACTED]

Request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (“the Act”)

Further to your recent request for information held by King’s College London, I am writing to confirm that the requested information is held by the university.

Your request

We received your information request on 30 September 2022 and have treated it as a request for information made under section 1(1) of the Act.

You requested the following information:

I am writing to you under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to request some information.

I would like to request a copy of all past papers (January/May/August sessions, resit/deferral sessions, mid-term tests, coursework papers and instructions, study abroad sessions and practice/mock papers along with the answers/mark schemes for all these papers I have asked for) from the years 2016-2022 for the following modules:

- ♦ 5QQMN937 – Macroeconomics
- ♦ 5QQMN938 - Intermediate Econometrics
- ♦ 5SSMN932 - Introduction to Econometrics
- ♦ 5SSPP217 – Microeconomics
- ♦ 5QQMN201 - The Economics of Energy and Climate
- ♦ 5QQMN213 - Game Theory
- ♦ 5SSMN933 - Economics of Strategy
- ♦ 5SSPP550 - Finance & Financial Markets

Our response

The University can confirm it holds some of the requested exam papers, however, this information has been withheld in accordance with section 43(2) of the Freedom of Information Act – Commercial Interests.

In the awarding of credit by universities, teaching and assessment are explicitly linked and cannot be separated; together they are the ‘assets’ that make up our degree programmes.

The University believes disclosure of the requested information would prejudice the University’s commercial interests by giving an unfair advantage to its competitors and by devaluing the University’s own assets. Universities are required to operate in a highly competitive global market with other HEIs and, if disclosed, the requested information would be freely exploited by the University’s competitors to modify their own teaching and assessment in response. Publication to the world would also dilute the value of the University’s assets: individuals may believe they can obtain a similar level of education through use of the materials alone, prejudicing student recruitment.

The University acknowledges that there is always inherent public interest in transparent practice, and in the public being able to judge the validity of the course content and assessment offered by HEIs. However, as a public authority in receipt of public funds, the University must also consider the weight of public interest in ensuring the use of public funds efficiently, through maintaining its ability to operate competitively and generate income. A significant amount of time and resource is devoted to producing these assets, they are a core commercial asset of the University on which student recruitment and retention are based, therefore on this occasion we find the public interest favours withholding the information.

Moreover, the ICO has found that such reports are commercially sensitive (As in ICO Decision Notice: FS50866848). The arguments set out in this decision also apply here.

This completes the university’s response to your information request.

Your right to complain

If you are unhappy with the service you have received in relation to your information request or feel that it has not been properly handled you have the right to complain or request a review of our decision by contacting the Director of Information Governance & Data Protection Officer within 60 days of the date of this letter.

Further information about our internal complaints procedure is available at the link below:
