At the start of the teaching the student’s concept map shows how the target of the teaching (“Dual Diagnosis”) occupies the central stage.

By the end of the course the concept of “Dual Diagnosis” has become a tool or method for looking at the client in a new and more insightful way.