

Developing Evidence-Based Management and Treatment for Intimate Partner Violence and Substance Misuse

Jubilee Campus, University of Nottingham

February 11, 2015

SPEAKERS

Dr Cory Crane

Assistant Professor
Department of Biomedical Sciences
Rochester Institute of Technology

Dr. Crane received his Ph.D. in clinical psychology from Purdue University in 2012, completed a clinical internship at the Yale University School of Medicine, and was an NIAAA postdoctoral fellow at the Research Institute on Addictions with the University at Buffalo. As a recently appointed assistant professor at the Rochester Institute of Technology and a psychologist working with violent offenders at the Canandaigua Veterans Affairs Medical Center, he continues his research examining the relationship between problematic alcohol use and intimate partner violence among community and clinical samples, including the development and evaluation of brief adjunctive as well as integrated treatments for partner violent males. Dr. Crane collects laboratory and prospective data from both members of intimate couples to help inform a more individualized perspective on violence treatment and prevention that takes into account both relational processes and underlying offender psychopathology.
