

Where to find us

There are five main libraries at King's College London covering a range of specialities, as well as Archives and Special Collections.

The Maughan Library

- American Studies
- Australian Studies
- Business Studies
- Classics
- Computer Science
- Cultural & Creative Industries
- Digital Culture & Technology
- Engineering
- English
- European Studies
- Film Studies
- French
- Geography
- German
- Gerontology
- Hellenic Studies
- History
- Law (including the Institute of Taxation's Tony Arnold Library)
- Linguistics
- Management
- Mathematics
- Medical Ethics
- Middle East & Mediterranean Studies
- Music
- Philosophy
- Physics
- Spanish, Portuguese & Latin-American Studies
- Theology & Religious Studies
- War Studies

Archives, 3rd Floor, Strand building

- English
- College institutional history
- History of Science
- History of Medicine
- Military History

Franklin-Wilkins Library

- Biochemistry
- Chemistry
- Education
- Forensic Science
- Nutrition & Dietetics
- Nursing & Midwifery
- Pharmacy

Foyle Special Collections Library

- Foreign and Commonwealth Office Historical Collection
- History of medicine
- Travel and exploration

St Thomas' House Library

- Basic medical sciences
- Clinical medicine and health services research
- Dermatology
- Paediatrics

The Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology & Neuroscience (IoPPN) Library

- Psychology
- Genetics
- Neurology
- Neuroscience
- Psychiatry
- Psychotherapy

New Hunt's House Library; Wills Library

- Biomedical Sciences – including:
 - Anatomy
 - Biochemistry
 - Biophysics
 - Cell biology
 - Genetics
 - Neuroscience
 - Pharmacology
 - Physiology
- Dentistry
- Medicine
- Physiotherapy

Weston Education Centre Library

- Basic medical sciences
- Clinical medicine
- Dentistry and health services research collections;
- Diabetes
- Gastroenterology
- Gynaecology
- Liver disease
- Obstetrics
- Health care policy
- Health journals archive
- History of medicine
- Medical audit
- Mental health
- Paediatrics
- Palliative care
- Public health

Denmark Hill Campus lies 2.3 miles due south of the Guy's Campus