Click “Edit profile...” then “Create or Connect your ORCID ID”

Then “Proceed” ...

The screenshot displays the Pure 5.5.0 user interface for King's College London. A central dialog box titled "Connect with your ORCID ID" is overlaid on the page. The dialog contains the following text:

You will now be directed to the ORCID site where you can generate your ORCID ID (if you don't already have one) and/or authorise the export of content (e.g. research outputs) from Pure to your ORCID record.

Upon set up, Pure will export the following content immediately, and then subsequently automatically update on a frequency determined by your Pure administrator:

- Institutional organisational affiliation
- Other personal identifiers (e.g. Scopus author ID, Researcher ID)
- Your Pure portal URL
- Your research outputs, where:
 - the publication state is either 'E-pub ahead of print' or 'Published'
 - the visibility of the record is 'Public - No restriction'
 - the workflow status is at least 'Validated'

A red arrow points to the "Proceed" button at the bottom right of the dialog box. The background interface shows a sidebar with navigation options like "Personal overview", "Research output", and "Activities". The main content area displays a profile overview with sections for "Research output" and "Research output network".

Then either “Sign In” to an existing profile or create a new one by entering your details:

The screenshot displays the Pure 5.5.0 interface for King's College London. On the left, the 'Personal overview' sidebar includes sections for Research output, Activities, Press clippings, Student theses, Curricula Vitae, Applications, Awards, Projects, and Impacts. The main content area shows 'My portal profile' and 'My research' tabs. A red arrow points from the 'Research output network' section in the sidebar to the 'Sign In' link on the ORCID sign-in screen.

The ORCID sign-in screen is titled 'ORCID Pure' and asks for access to the user's ORCID Record. It lists permissions: 'Update your affiliations', 'Update your biographical information', 'Get your ORCID iD', and 'Update your works'. A checkbox is checked for 'Allow this permission until I revoke it.' Below this, it states: 'This application will not be able to see your ORCID password, or other private info in your ORCID Record. Privacy Policy.'

The screen offers two options: 'Already have an ORCID iD? Sign In' and 'Create an ORCID password'. The 'Sign In' option includes fields for 'First name', 'Last name', 'Email', and 'Re-enter email'. The 'Create an ORCID password' option includes fields for 'Create an ORCID password' and 'Confirm ORCID password'. A 'Help and support' link is visible at the bottom right.

When you have entered everything, click “Authorise” ...

- The link to your public record is <http://orcid.org/0000-0002-7921-5834>

Next steps:

1. Add more information to your ORCID Record

Access your ORCID record at <https://orcid.org/my-orcid> and add additional information to your record. Funders, publishers, universities and others use the information contained in an ORCID Record to help decrease the record keeping they ask from you. Increase the amount of information you can share in this way by adding other names you are known by, professional information, funding items you have received and works you have created to your Record.

For tips on adding information to your ORCID record see: <http://support.orcid.org/knowledgebase/articles/460004>

2. Use your ORCID iD when publishing, applying for grants and more

Many systems ask for your ORCID iD to create a link between you and your research outputs. Continue to use your ORCID iD whenever it is asked for to get credit for your work and decrease future record keeping.
