

The Gender & Politics Workshop:
Women's Parliamentary Representation in Eastern Europe

Department of Political Economy
King's College London
Supported by the Noble Foundation's Programme on Modern Poland

Friday, 19th May 2017
Small Committee Room,
Second Floor, King's Building
King's College London

[Draft programme]

9.30-9.45 – Registration; Tea/Coffee

9.45-10.00 – Welcome remarks by Dr Anna Gwiazda and Prof. Mark Pennington
(Head of Department)

10.00-10.40 – Keynote address: Prof Joni Lovenduski, Birkbeck College, University of London

10.45-12.45 – Panel 1: Descriptive Representation

Chair: Dr Anna Gwiazda, King's College London

Prof. Milica Antić Gaber, University of Ljubljana, Slovenia

Legislative gender quotas in Slovenia and its influence on the descriptive representation on women in parliament

Dr Elena Semenova, Free University Berlin, Germany

Parliamentary representation in CEE parliaments: Does gender matter?

Dr Marjeta Šinko, University of Zagreb, Croatia

Women's Parliamentary Representation in Croatia: Phases of 'Invisibility' and 'Glass Ceiling' followed by Regression

Ms Elena Brodeala, PhD candidate, European University Institute, Florence, Italy

Women's access to political power: legal and political debates on electoral gender quotas in Romania

12.45-13.30 – Lunch

13.30-15.00 – Panel 2: Substantive Representation

Chair: Prof. Laura Morales, University of Leicester

Prof. Gabriella Ilonszki, Corvinus University of Budapest, and Ms Adrienn Vajda, PhD Candidate, Corvinus University of Budapest, Hungary
Substantive Representation in Decline. Unfolding the Hungarian Case.

Dr Cristina Chiva, University of Salford Manchester, UK

Reproducing Male Dominance? The Substantive Representation of Women in the Politics of Central and Eastern Europe

Ms Liana Minkova, PhD candidate, University of Cambridge, UK

Making an Appearance or Making a Difference: The Gap between Descriptive and Substantive Representation of Women in Bulgarian Parliament

15.00-15.15 – Tea/Coffee

15.15-16.45 – Panel 3: Substantive Representation Part II

Chair: Annalisa Cappellini, King's College London

Ms Burtejin Zorigt, PhD Candidate, Central European University, Hungary
Men vs Women different policy agendas: The Hungarian case

Dr Anna Gwiazda, King's College London, UK

The substantive representation of women in Poland

Prof. Emilia Zankina, American University in Bulgaria, and Dr Ekaterina Rashkova, Utrecht University, Netherlands

Substantive presence: Women's parliamentary representation in Southeastern Europe.

17.00-18.30 – Panel 4: Political Parties

Chair: Annalisa Cappellini, King's College London

Dr Ekaterina Rashkova, Utrecht University, Netherlands

Gender Politics and the Slovak Far-Right Parties

Ms Markéta Mottlová, PhD candidate, Charles University in Prague, Czech Republic
Czech Social Democrats and Adoption of Party Gender Quotas: Window of Opportunity and Effect of Quotas

Dr Jan Nemeč, University of Economics, Prague, Czech Republic
Women Representation in Anti-political Establishment Parties: The Czech Case

19.30 – Dinner at the Waldorf Hilton (Homage Restaurant), Aldwych, London