A unique opportunity to study a degree exploring aspects of the ancient, medieval and modern worlds.

Key benefits

- One of the very best Classics departments in the country, renowned for its quality of teaching, student experience and cutting-edge research.
- The department stages an annual Greek play in the original language, providing students with an opportunity to experience the Greek dramatic tradition.
- King’s is one of only three UK institutions that teach Modern Greek at BA degree level.
- The Centre for Hellenic Studies at King’s is the largest of its kind with all staff active in research at international level in a wide range of fields.
- Location makes collaboration possible with many Greek cultural organisations based in London.
- Graduates go into a wide range of professions, including law, government service, journalism, teaching and the financial services industries.

Please note: Assessed internship placements are not included as part of this course. However, King’s Careers and Employability can help you to find a range of different work experience options, including internships, placements and shadowing opportunities: kcl.ac.uk/campuslife/services/careers/index.aspx

Course details

The continuity of Greek culture from ancient times to the present day offers you a unique opportunity to explore aspects of the ancient, medieval and modern worlds through literature, history, archaeology and art. The diverse range of module options will offer both focus and flexibility. You will learn to think critically and independently about the subjects you encounter in your studies, and develop a range of skills that will support your intellectual, vocational and personal development.

The Classical and Modern Greek Studies BA course comprises of 360 credits in total and is studied over three years. Each year, you will study a set number of modules directly related to Greek, and then choose from a wide selection of optional interdepartmental modules allowing you to widely explore all aspects of the cultures of Greece and Rome.
Teaching

We employ a range of teaching methods, including lectures, seminars and tutorials. You will also be expected to undertake a significant amount of independent study. You will be assigned a personal tutor who will provide support and guidance for your studies.

Fees and funding
Full time tuition fees UK
The UK tuition fees for the 2018-19 academic year are available on the course web page: kcl.ac.uk/study/undergraduate/courses/classical-and-modern-greek-studies-ba.aspx

Please note that the tuition fees for subsequent years of study may be subject to increases in line with King’s terms and conditions.

All International applicants to undergraduate programmes are required to pay a deposit of £2,000 against their first year’s tuition fee. This deposit is payable when you firmly accept an unconditional offer to study with us and will be offset against your tuition fees when you join King’s.

For further information, please visit our fees and funding pages kcl.ac.uk/study/undergraduate/fees-and-funding/index.aspx

Full time tuition fees EU
Current regulations allow some students to pay UK tuition fees on the basis of their EU citizenship or residency. Until these eligibility criteria are changed, the EU tuition fee will remain the same as the UK tuition fee.

The UK tuition fees for the 2018-19 academic year are available on the course web page: kcl.ac.uk/study/undergraduate/courses/classical-and-modern-greek-studies-ba.aspx

Please note that the tuition fees for subsequent years of study may be subject to increases in line with King’s terms and conditions.

Full time tuition fees International
The International tuition fees for the 2018-19 academic year are available on the course web page: kcl.ac.uk/study/undergraduate/courses/classical-and-modern-greek-studies-ba.aspx

Please note that the tuition fees for subsequent years of study may be subject to increases in line with King’s terms and conditions.
Additional costs/expenses

If you choose the study abroad option with one of King’s partner universities, you will not be charged tuition fees by the host university (although some partners do charge a small administration fee for applying). Please see the Study Abroad webpages for details of the relevant partner universities.

King’s will continue to invoice for a proportion of King’s tuition fees. At present these are as follows:

- Home students studying for a semester abroad will receive an invoice for £6,000 for King’s tuition fees for the year.
- Home students studying or working for a full academic year abroad will receive an invoice for £1,350 for King’s tuition fees for the year.
- Overseas students studying for a semester abroad will receive an invoice for two thirds of the King’s tuition fees for the year.
- Overseas students studying or working for a full academic year abroad will receive an invoice for one third of the King’s tuition fees for the year.

You should also budget to pay for the associated subsistence costs, such as travel, visas, accommodation and food as well as any vaccination/immunisations required by the country to which you are travelling.

In addition to the costs above, you can also expect to pay for:

- stationery
- graduation costs
- travel costs for travel around London and between campuses.
